INJURY/ ILLNESS

Was there an event or exposure in the work environment that either caused or contributed to the resulting condition?

OSHA defines the work environment as "the establishment and other locations where one or more employees are working or are present as a condition of their employment. The work environment includes not only physical locations, but also the equipment or materials used by the employee during the course of his or her work."

- No → Was a pre-existing injury or illness significantly aggravated by an event or exposure in the work environment?
- Yes → The case is Work Related.

OSHA defines a Preexisting injury or illness as "An injury or illness is a preexisting condition if it resulted solely from a non-work-related event or exposure that occurred outside the work environment."

- No → This is most likely a personal case.
- Yes → This is most likely a Work Related case.
